DEPUTY, PAL
HELD IN ROW
WITH BARKEEP

William J. Durant, 44, Kings County Deputy Sheriff, and a drinking pal were charged with disorderly conduct yesterday. A policeman testified in Bay Ridge Court, Brooklyn, the pair were "insolent" when the cop tried to quell a disturbance in a bar and grill.

Peterson Alfred T. Donatelli of Fifth Ave. Station said he was summoned to a bar and grill at 121st St. and Seventh Ave., Brooklyn, last Monday evening. He found the deputy sheriff and his friend, Joseph A. Price, 33, of 6214 Woodhaven Boulevard, Rego Park, Queens, arguing with the bartender.

The cop said Durant kept insisting he was a deputy sheriff but refused to show credentials until he was taken to the station house. Magistrate Sylvester Sukhatne pinned the defendants until another hearing tomorrow.

"Our answer to anti-Semitism," Knudsen said, "is a practical demonstration of our high confidence in and esteem for Rabbi Friedman, one of the most devoted workers in our Plymouth Council of Churches."
